"Waiting For This Sale"

Begins Saturday, February 27

Yes, and truly worth waiting for, 'tis the last closing out price event of the season's stocks, all through this big store, every department will take advantage of this chance—each department buyer will make a determined effort to reduce their stocks the most. This is where the customer secures the best bargains of any past sales of the season, this final cut price sale—the real ending of the winter selling. Hosts of people watch and wait for this Fordyce-Osborne "Last reductions" of the season. Because there's nothing like it in any of Youngstown's sales. Of course, some lots are not large—some are not large enough to mention, the people who are here early on Saturday morning will have the best opportunity of selections. If you're "Waiting For This Sale," you will be interested in knowing that new cut prices will be made each day, each hour in some one or the other of the many departments of this store, as fast as some lines are sold out others will take their place, until every dollar's worth of this stock is closed out. And while we would advise all who can to come early on Saturday morning, yet there'll be stirring values each hour of the day.

Remember the opening day of this remarkable sale will be on Saturday Morning, February 27. Once more we'll say, "Last Chance on Winter Goods."

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE FEASTED

A Large Number of Enlisted Men Whose Terms of Service Had Expired Leave the Battleships.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 24.—Graceful homages were paid by the southern yesterday to the globe-trotting American battleship fleet in this old capital of the Confederacy.

"We welcome you to the hearts of a people who yield to no one in devotion to the American navy nor in loyalty to our flag."

This sentiment feelingly expressed at a luncheon in the Jefferson hotel by Mayor Richardson in welcoming Rear Admiral Sperry, Rear Admiral Vainwright and 64 of the officers under the former's command to this city found echo in the words of Sperry, who received an ovation.

Bad Weather Greets Battleships.

Port Monroe, Va., Feb. 24.—The bad weather which greeted the battleship fleet at the Virginia capes on Monday, the worst the 15 ships have experienced in any port visited on their way around the world, continued yesterday. Storm signals were hoisted on the beach and during the afternoon a stiff southeaster set in, driving a stinging rain before it. The ships at anchor paid little heed to the blow, but the little steam launches running between ship and shore were buffeted by wind and waves.

Nearly half of the ships began coaling in spite of the weather. All of the vessels came in with bunkers nearly empty after the long run from Gibraltar. It is hoped that the last of the ships will have been coaled by Saturday in order that the men may parade in Norfolk on that day.

Many Enlisted Men Go Home.

One of the most interesting sights was the departure of a large number of enlisted men, whose terms of service had expired. They came ashore from the various ships in boats which were towed by steam launches. As they left the side of the vessel on which they served, the departing men were given lusty cheers by the sailors. Still attired in their sailor togas the men reached the government dock loaded down with all manner of luggage. Many of them had their belongings and souvenirs of the long trip stowed away in canvas bags.

A number of the sailors who left were long enlistment men who undoubtedly will come back into the service before three months have elapsed. They have served considerable money on the trip and are anxious to go home and tell of their experiences. If they re-enlist within 90 days they will be rated as having never left the navy and will receive the increased pay which comes with every re-enlistment.
